VOL. XXXVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 7, 1908.

NO. 45.

THE LATE EDITOR F. J. CAMPBELL.

Who was brave, fearless and always the champion of the right against the wrong; an uncompromising democrat; publisher of truth, yet thoughtful of the unfortunate; lover of home and State. A good man gone. Peace to his ashes!

Sizes Him Up Right.

The editor of the Switzerland, Ind., Democrat has Powers and his anders and abettors down fine as this article shows:

The Democrat desires to compliment the Madison Chautauqua management on its good sense and sound judgment in cancelling the engagement of Caleb Powers for Aug. 8. The people of Indiana do not want a Guiteau or a Croizogez marquering her platforms in the guise of a martyr, pouring out his tate of woe.

Chautauqua platforms are designed for such entertainments as look to the betterment of mankind in general, where ideals of a higher life are depicted. Then why should a man, charged with one of the foulest and bloodiest murders ever committed, be given such an opportunity to rehearse his story to an outraged public, after being saved from the gallows and State prison by the intervention of a political friend with an official pardon?

It should not be forgotten that Caleb Powers was thrice convicted by a jury of his peers and by a unanimous ballot, too, and the fourth trial resulted in a hung jury.

It should not be forgotten, too, that the three reversals of this case by the court of appeals—and Howard's too, were simply on technicalities, and in no instance on the merits of their cases, and these too, strictly along political lines.

Caleb Powers owes his liberty to this influence of his political friends and not to any sense of justice. He was convicted upon his own evidence and that of his friends and associates, who were mixed up in this affair with him at the time.

Where is his brother, John Powers? Where has he been since the firing of the assassin's bullet? Why has he not been faithful and loyal to his brother in this hour of trouble? Why did he leave him to his fate, when the "State Government" abdicated their official places and positions, after Gov. Goevel had been shot down by the assassin?

Why not present during his long and tedious trials, confinement in the several prisons where he was kept for over seven long years?

No, he too, is a fugitive from justice. He was indicted for complicity in this crime by a Franklin county, Ky., grand jury.

He was in the Secretary of State's office as chief clerk of his brother when the trouble occurred.

Why did not Wm. S. Taylor, "Gov." Taylor, appear to testify for Caleb Powers?

He was present in his office next to that of the Secretary of State, when the assassin found his way into Powers' office and fired the fatal shot.

Gov. Beckham, Judge Stout and State's Attorney Franklin promised Taylor absolute protection, and even went so far as to offer the services of a company of regular soldiers to meet him at the Ohio river, escort him to Georgetown and back to Indiana and guard and protect him while testifying and attending the trial. All of this Taylor declined—and now that Kentucky has a republican governor, Taylor does not return to his home in his native State.

The people of Indiana, too, would be glad to be relieved of the cloud hanging over them as a "law abiding" State, by reason of the continued presence of Taylor and Finley here. Let Gov. Wilson make good his campaign promise by issuing a requisition for the return of these men to their native State and let them prove their innocence of the charges against them, before they assume to permanent citizenship here.

Caleb Powers was adjudged guilty chiefly upon his own evidence and has no cause of complaint at the hands of the court.

NEWS NOTES.

Preston T. Potter, one of Warren county's oldest and best-known citizens, is dead.

Three men were killed in an explosion at the Klineckerbocker colliery near Shenandoah, Pa.

Bronson Howard, the dramatic, died at Avon-by-the-sea, N. J., of heart failure. He had been ill for several weeks.

Winfield Scott Smyth, known to educators throughout the country as a publisher of school text books, died at South Haven, Mich.

The Throckmorton Hotel, at Maysville, was burned. The proprietress of the hotel had $4,000 concealed under a carpet in one of the rooms which was destroyed.

Gov. Wilson has offered a reward of $500 "for the apprehension and conviction of the leader and chief officer and the officers next in authority to him, of the night riders in the Hopkinsville raid, the Princeton raid and the Russellville raid."

James Kelley, of Paducah, shot and killed Link James and probably fatally wounded Miss Eva Sleeter, meeting them on the road near Metropolis, Ill., when they were out buggy riding. Kelley killed himself after shooting his rival and the girl.

J. B. Brasher, editor of the Madisonville Journal, and Jack Shanks, a non-union contractor, engaged in a fight which resulted in Shanks' receiving a number of ugly gashes about the face. Shanks, it is said, attacked Brasher, striking him in the face and knocking him back several feet.

George Pettibone, for years prominent in the councils of the Western Federation of Miners and charged with resident Moyer and former Secretary Haygood of complicity in the murder of former Governor Steubenberg, of Idaho, died in St. Joseph's Hospital at Denver from the effects of an operation for cataract.

Rufus Browder, the Negro slayer of James Cunningham, was indicted on the charge of willful murder. His attorneys entered a motion for a change of venue, at Russellville, and testimony in support of the motion will be heard next Monday. The trial will not be called before August 12, and Browder will remain in jail at Louisville until then. In all probability Gov. Wilson will send a guard of militia with the Negro when he is returned for trial.

The State of Texas has established a rigid yellow fever quarantine against Mexico.

Served as coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocer's everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, will trick even a coffee expert. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Pure healthful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc. have been so cleverly blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And it is "made in a minute," too. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. Penny's Drug Store.

THE colored teachers' institute met Monday at 10 A. M. in the First Baptist church with Supt. G. Singleton presiding. After giving an interesting talk he presented the efficient conductor, Mrs. L. B. Sned, of Louisville, who delivered an excellent address, in which she outlined the work for the week and gave splendid suggestions as to how this work should be prepared. Miss Elizabeth Broaddus was elected secretary. The roll was called and the following teachers responded. Profs. J. F. Owens, R. C. Durham and F. L. Stepp, Drs. Charles Sned and W. D. Tardif, Misses Estella Jarman, Clara Lackey, Rosa Ross, J. A. Reid, Rebecca Logan, Georgia Cowen and L. V. Hudson. Mesdames A. V. Haynes, Mary Owens, A. H. Tardif, T. E. Stepp. The following assignments for the week were made: The Training of Perception—Dr. Tardif; Physiology—Dr. C. Sned and Mrs. Haynes; Reading—Mrs. Stepp; Language Composition—Mrs. Tardif; History—Miss Clara Lackey; Geography—Prof. Stepp; Primary Arithmetic—Miss J. A. Reid; How Can a Teacher Secure Interest—Miss M. E. Jarman; Power and Imagination—Miss Elizabeth Broaddus.

HUBBLE.

Most all the wheat here has been threshed but the yield is not so good as in previous years.

Mrs. J. W. Anderson wishes us to thank the people here for their kindness during her recent bereavement.

There is much sickness in this community and our hustling physician, Dr. Hickle, is kept busy day and night.

On account of repairs there were no services at the Christian church last Sunday. The ladies are having the interior of the church beautified with a new coat of paper and expect to have everything in readiness for the protracted meeting, which is set for Sept. 6th.

After an illness of about two months, Mr. J. W. Anderson, our clever blacksmith, was called to his reward Friday morning. He had been in declining health for a year, but did not realize until recently that the end was near. He was buried at the Fork church. He was a member of the Christian church and was a good, kind-hearted man. Our sympathy goes out to the broken home circle, where his loss is felt so deeply.

J. T. Weaver is up from Wayne county looking for a farm. Mr. Fount Stigall, of Somerset, is with his daughter, Mrs. Sloan. Robert Hutchison, who has resided here for some time, has moved his family to Lexington. Mr. Hutchison made many friends while in this community and we regret to give these good people up. Haven McBeath and wife have returned from a visit to Somerset. Miss Grace Deering, of Lexington, is the guest of Miss Flonnie Hammond. Mrs. James McKechnie is on the sick list. Mr. Luther Givens and wife, of Harrodsburg, spent several days with Mr. B. W. Givens and family. Miss Cora Goode, of Hustonville, is with Misses Effie and Hettie Miller.

BRODHEAD.

A fine rain fell Tuesday night and the threatened drought is broken.

Dave Hurt, the section foreman, was taken very sick Wednesday and had to be brought in on his hand car.

The election for school trustee here was a hot one, creating more excitement than a county race. Granville

Taking A Week Off.

The editor of this paper is enjoying life just now. He and his family are spending a week at the hospitable home of Mr. Samuel Damron, near Mt. Salem, and are drinking Sims' Olympian Springs water. He took a similar outing last year and enjoyed it so much that he has since looked forward to another week of free and easy life among the good people of this part of Lincoln county.

Mr. Damron, at whose home we are domiciled, moved to this county from Casey three years ago, but he originally lived in Adair. His family consists of his good wife and five children, four of whom are at home. It is an exceedingly happy, loving family and it makes one feel good to be in their home. They live on the old Major Jones farm and the head of the house is just as good at tilling the soil as he is in making those who come within his gates feel at home. His wife is a gentle, kind woman, a magnificent housekeeper, and a helpmeet in all the world means. Three fine young men are the sons of the good pair. They are sober, industrious, manly fellows and their parents say they have never given them a moment's trouble. Then there is a pretty daughter just budding into beautiful womanhood. She is very popular and the writer can't say just how long she will be a member of the household. However, when she does leave it she will be missed, but somebody else's home will be beautifully kept. She knows how and she has the energy to keep things straight from parlor to kitchen.

If Sims' Olympian Springs' water were an intoxicant there would be lots of drunkenness in and around the Springs now. Everybody drinks it and everybody seems benefited. A good crowd is at the Springs and has been since the latter part of May. This will certainly be Proprietor Sims' banner year. The baths he gives are very helpful and many take advantage of them. He is much better fixed to give baths than he was last year and the consequence is he is doing more business in that line. There is considerable talk of Mr. Sims selling out, but when a man turns down offers of $10,000 or more it looks like he doesn't care much about disposing of his holdings.

Crops in this section are looking fairly well. Corn has not suffered for rain as it has around Stanford. In fact the prospects for an average crop are fair. Wheat yielded pretty well and the hay crop was good. Old corn can be bought at $4 per barrel, which is cheaper than it is selling in other parts of the country.

Timber is being hauled from Casey and Russell to McKinney for shipment. An average of 75 or 100 wagons, heavily loaded with staves, ties, spokes or singletrees, pass Mr. Damron's daily and more than half the teamsters stop and water themselves and their teams at his big spring. They do it on Mr. Damron's invitation, for he says he had rather furnish the water than have the stock go thirsty.

The people in this section are not at all pleased about the postoffice at Mt. Salem being discontinued. They petitioned the postoffice department to let it remain an office as it had for 35 years but it was all in vain. They know where to place the blame and a reopening of the postoffice question will be made soon. It looks hardly just to turn a deaf ear to 207 of the patrons of a country postoffice. They like the rural route pretty well but can't get use to it making their mail nearly a day late.

Mr. Mac Wheat, of Valley View, Tex., is visiting his friends and relatives at Middleburg. He was at Olympian Springs Sunday and so much resembled Senator Joe Bailey, of Texas, that the writer wasn't certain which it was. Mr. Wheat is doing splendidly in the "Lone Star" State and is greatly enjoying his visit to the scenes of his childhood.

Among the guests at Olympian are Mr. J. F. Bates, of Monticello. Mr. Bates was lucky in holding some splendid oil land. He sold it for a fancy price but retained a royalty which is bringing him in a snug amount of cash. He is troubled with rheumatism and is being greatly benefited. Thomas Eads, of Stanford, is also taking the baths and finding a panacea in them. Mrs. Robert Robinson, of Somerset, and two bright children are at Olympian for several weeks. A picnic crowd composed of Mr. J. P. Riffe and wife, Mr. McKee Riffe and wife, Mr. Al Schwartz and wife and Miss Molie Horton, Mr. E. S. Powell and wife and Messrs. T. L. Carpenter and Crit Riffe spent Tuesday very enjoyably at the Springs. Mr. B. N. Avritt and wife, of Bradfordsville, are residing at Hustonville and drive down daily to get the benefit of the water. Capt. B. F. Powell and Mr. W. P. Givens, of Lincoln, were down Tuesday. The captain will return for a sojourn next week. He is troubled with rheumatism.

POLITICAL.

Former Lieut. Gov. William I. Thorne opened the presidential campaign at New Castle with a speech for Bryan and Kern.

Gen. T. Coleman DuPont, of Delaware, has been appointed director of the Speakers' Bureau of the Republican National Committee.

Candidate Taft's friends are busy denying that he said a dollar a day is enough for any working man. This is pretty early in the action to begin the denial business, which promises to develop into an industry before the campaign is far spent.

Hon. James N. Kehoe, of Mayfield, was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Ninth district in a convention which met at Clifftopside, near Ashland. His only opponent, the Hon. E. B. Hager, made a motion to make Kehoe's nomination unanimous after the first ballot. The convention was harmonious throughout.

Senator William A. Allison, of Iowa, died of heart failure at Dubuque. Senator Allison had been seriously ill since last Saturday, but the facts of his condition were concealed by his family. Had Senator Allison lived to complete his term in 1900 he would have served longer in the United States Senate than any other member. Gov. A. B. Cummins on learning of the Senator's death decided to cut short his vacation and will return to Iowa to begin a campaign for election as Senator Allison's successor.

This is good news to the friends and admirers of the splendid gentleman. The State Journal is pleased to receive from a close friend of Mr. Arthur Goebel a letter denying the lurid stories of his complete breakdown and his serious condition at Carlisle, Germany. While not very good, Mr. Goebel's health is no worse than for some time, and is far from alarming. He is simply taking a rest abroad, the first vacation that he has allowed himself in ten years.

Chairman Mack, of New York, says: "The situation as I find it in the State—and, in fact, in all the Eastern States—has been most gratifying. The responsiveness of the democratic leaders in the East to the call of duty denotes a campaign that will be fought vigorously to a successful conclusion. Plans are in contemplation for a forceful campaign throughout the country, but of these I can say nothing at this time. All parts of the country is our battleground and no one section will be neglected. Everything augurs well for the election of W. J. Bryan."

At a meeting participated in by Congressman Ben Johnson, chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee; Henry R. Prewitt, chairman of the Democratic State committee; Senator John A. Donaldson, of the Sixth district, and W. A. Berry, of the First district, held at the Seelbach Hotel, the members of the State Campaign Committee to assist Chairman Johnson were selected as follows: Judge Allie W. Young, Morehead; Judge Lewis McQuown, Frankfort; J. T. Griffith, Warsaw; S. W. Hager, Ashland; P. S. Maxwell, Marion. Chairman Johnson stated that this committee would meet next Tuesday at noon at the Seelbach to elect a secretary. Congressman Ollie James participated in the conference at which the committee was

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidneys. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine especially designed to strengthen these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone is waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a mouthful Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Doctor recommends and sells.

The Erroneous Remarks. High Bridge Safe.

An interview with Chairman A. T. Siler, State Railroad Commissioner, reports that Gustave Lindenthal, Consulting Engineer of the Pennsylvania Lines, after a thorough examination of High Bridge over the Kentucky River, is in an absolute safe condition. After the examination he discovered that not a loose rivet was found and the bridge is in good condition and perfectly safe. Officials of the Queen & Crescent Route had decided owing to the heavy motive power, which is not now being used North of Danville, to rebuild High Bridge knowing, as stated above, that the present bridge was perfectly safe for the motive power now in use. Malicious rumors were started that the present bridge was unsafe and of course this report was spread broadcast. A new bridge will be constructed with one span 840 feet long and by some 70 feet higher than the present one and will cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars. It is supposed that the fact of constructing a new bridge caused the circulation of the report above referred to.

There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at Penny's Drug Store, 50c.
